Earth water

When you buy a bottle of water at the IKEA stores, you will be helping to provide a school meal to someone who needs it.

We are partnering with The Earth Group to sell Earth water bottled water. The Earth Group is a Canadian organization, based in Edmonton which supports the United Nations World Food Programme (WFP). Each year, The Earth Group provides a minimum of 400,000 school meals to children.

In addition to providing food assistance in emergencies, WFP places specific emphasis on school meals for children. As well as providing vital nourishment, school meals act as a safety net for struggling families and help keep children in school. School meals are a good way to channel vital nourishment to children from families with financial challenges. Having a full stomach helps them concentrate better in lessons.

The partnership between IKEA Canada and The Earth Group will help WFP provide an additional 150,000 meals per year.

Feed the world.

Protect the planet.

This product is aluminum and is infinitely recyclable. Approximately 70% of all aluminum cans are recycled globally, compared to less than 30% of plastic bottles.

This product supports the United Nations World Food Programme to provide school meals and education.

This product will prevent the equivalent of one 500ml plastic bottle from entering our oceans and waterways in partnership with plasticbank.com

This is why you should drink THIS water (or just drink tap water).
